Introduction & Company Profile

Soilutions Ltd commenced operating in mid 2003 in the field of contaminated soil and water remediation. Drawing from a wide range of experience the company offers various methods of remediation to ensure that the best possible environmental and economical techniques are offered to their clients.

Quality Policy & Objectives

Soilutions Ltd is a small but multidisciplinary company that draws from a wide range of experience. The company strives to achieve sustained profitable growth through supplying a service tailored to meet and when possible surpass their client's needs and expectations.

To comply with the recent changes in the legislation governing the remediation of contaminated land, Soilutions have successfully been granted a mobile plant license. Where required, the company will operate under the guidelines laid down in their Mobile Plant Waste Management Licence number WML/E/0220262.

To achieve a high level of service the company has implemented an Integrated Management System, encompassing ISO: 9001 2000(Quality Management System), ISO: 14001 1996(Environmental Management System), and OHSAS: 18001(Occupational Health & Safety Management System), that will enable Soilutions to operate effectively and efficiently whilst reducing costs and waste.

A key objective of the company is to ensure that these systems are continually maintained and improved where possible so that they exceed client expectations.

These expectations are further achieved by the high level of commitment from the Managing Director, Quality Manager and all other employees of the company. With every new employee being fully inducted, the level of quality will be consistently maintained.

The quality system in place will be continually reviewed and audited with all employees being urged to suggest improvements and take ownership of the system. This will assist in raising the company standards resulting in the ability to offer customers an improved service.
